USING THIS INDEX/CHECKLIST

All new and revised EM articles are added to the Power Services Methods Technical Reference Library CD as articles are completed and the CD Pack is published. Articles issued between CD releases may be obtained from the Power Services – Methods Portal.

This index provides individuals maintaining a hard copy of the Field Engineer's Manual (FEM) with a list of the most current articles and revisions.

This document lists all current EM articles covering GE Gas Turbine technology. Articles that have been revised or newly issued since the last issue of the Technical Reference Library CD are marked with R or N, respectively, in the Issue Date column. Articles identified in the Issue Date column as Pending/Draft are in development. Contact Power Services Methods for a draft copy.

Users maintaining a hard copy of the FEM should insert new or revised articles into the manual, and remove and destroy superseded articles.

ACCESSING THE POWER SERVICES – METHODS PORTAL

All articles issued between Technical Reference CD releases can be obtained from the Power Services – Methods Portal by going to the address below.

REVISIONS AND ADDITIONS TO THE FIELD ENGINEER'S MANUAL

Field Engineers are encouraged to recommend revisions, additions, and submit new or revised articles for the Field Engineering Manual, as well as other Power Services Methods documentation, such as Start-Up Reports, Maintenance Forms, etc.

Revisions or comments to improve articles should be sent by E-Mail to:
